

Book Report

Hi everybody! The book I am going to introduce is 13 Photos Children Should Know by Brad Finger. It is actually a history book and most of you might find it boring. Yet, the book shows some significant moments of mankind history over the last 100 years. The photographs can let you peek into the past. It shows people in the past who dressed, worked, and lived very differently. The thirteen famous photographs in this book introduce thirteen events that changed the world. First moon landing, the release of Nelson Mandela, the fall of Berlin wall etc.. You will find out the reveal of the events and why these images have become history in the caption.

Every day new images move the world, and history goes on.
